

Candlestick Pattern Cheat Sheet

Single-candle and multi-candle patterns, with the signal each one typically gives.

GREEN = bullish (close > open)

RED = bearish (close < open)

Anatomy of a candle

Single-candle signals

Bullish reversal patterns

Bearish reversal patterns

Continuation patterns (trend pauses, then resumes)

How to read it: context matters — the same shape can be bullish or bearish depending on the trend it appears in. Wait for the next candle to confirm. Patterns describe probabilities, not certainties; their predictive edge is modest. Use as one input alongside trend, volume and risk management. Educational reference, not financial advice.
